Archival history is ISAD compliant Custodial history is RAD compliant currently we use Archival history in the accessions template, which can be confusing for archivists' that only know RAD

if an archivist chooses to create an archival description from the accession record (by clicking on the button "create archival description") and the description is in RAD the information from archival history field maps to custodial history. but it could be confusing to archivists doing data entry. the user manual has been updated to explain this. but the label should be changed.
